

Now Hiring: Interns Who Want to Make Real Change Happen!

Location: Delhi

Duration: 1-2 months (Flexible)

Organization: Dhriiti – The Courage Within

Apply: Rolling applications (so earlier = better!), deadline is 05 August 2026.

About Organization

Jhini Learning LLP is a New Delhi-based learning solutions provider creating learning-led, scalable models for governments, corporates, and development organisations. It is powered by Dhriiti – The Courage Within, a non-profit working to build a resilient world by enabling individuals and communities to cope, adapt, and thrive using the tools of enterprise and entrepreneurship.

Chilgoza, an initiative under Jhini Learning LLP, is a sustainable lifestyle brand that works with artisan communities to create thoughtfully designed, handcrafted products while promoting sustainable livelihoods and conscious consumption.

What This Internship Is Really About

We are looking for freshers and immediate joiners who are creative, enthusiastic, and eager to gain hands-on experience in a social enterprise.

What You'll Be Doing

- Assist the team in creating social media content.
- Share ideas for product design and development.
- Coordinate with the team on day-to-day brand development and design activities.

Who Should Apply?

Undergrads from ANY discipline who are:

- Freshers or students looking for hands-on experience.
- Creative, proactive, and willing to learn.
- Basic knowledge of Canva, design, or social media is a plus (not mandatory).
- Immediate joiners preferred.

Hindi+English helps. Any additional regional language = bonus points.

Local travel may be required depending on project sites.

What You'll Get Out of This

- Practical experience in branding, product development, and creative communication.
- Exposure to working with artisan communities and sustainable enterprises.
- Mentorship and an opportunity to contribute to a growing impact-driven brand.

Note: This is an unpaid internship, but the learning and field experience? Absolutely priceless.
